

Deductible HMO Plan with HRA

Understand your costs

With this Kaiser Permanente deductible HMO plan, it's easy to pay for care using a health reimbursement arrangement (HRA) that's set up and funded by your employer.

Features include:

Your employer puts money in your HRA. You won't pay taxes on this money,¹ and you can use it to pay for care.²

You don't need a referral for certain specialties, like optometry and obstetrics-gynecology.

Pay predictable copays or coinsurance for care and prescriptions after you reach your deductible.

Our personalized online estimate tools help you better understand what you'll pay for medical services and prescriptions based on your health plan.

Most preventive care services – like routine physical exams, mammograms, and cholesterol screenings – are covered at no cost.³

Your out-of-pocket maximum helps limit how much you could spend for care each year.

Definitions

Coinsurance – A percentage of the charges that you pay for covered services. Example: 20% coinsurance for a $200 outpatient procedure is $40.

Copay – A set amount you pay for covered services. Example: $20 for an office visit and $10 for generic prescription drugs.

Deductible – The amount you pay for certain services before Kaiser Permanente starts to pay. Example: A $500 deductible means you'll pay the full costs up to $500 before you start paying copays or coinsurance.

Out-of-pocket maximum – The maximum amount you'll pay for covered services each year.⁴

What you can expect

We make it simple for you to understand what and how you'll pay for care.

Visit kp.org/deductibleplans for resources on understanding your plan costs.

How much you pay for care

- When you get care, you'll pay the full cost until reaching a set amount known as your deductible.
- Then you'll start paying less – a copay or a percentage of the charges (a coinsurance) for the rest of the year. Kaiser Permanente covers the rest.
- You also have an out-of-pocket maximum. If you reach your maximum, you won't pay for most covered services for the rest of the year.⁴
- You'll get most preventive care at no cost or at a copay, even before you reach your deductible.³ Learn more at kp.org/prevention.

How much your family pays for care

- If your family is covered under your plan, you also have a family deductible and out-of-pocket maximum.
 - If you reach your family deductible, everyone in your family will start paying a copay or coinsurance for covered services instead of full cost – even if they haven't met their individual deductibles.
 - If you reach the family out-of-pocket maximum, no one in your family will have to pay for most covered services for the rest of the year – even if they haven't met their individual out-of-pocket maximums.⁴

Paying for additional services

- After reaching your deductible, you'll pay a copay or coinsurance for your scheduled services. If you get additional services during your visit, you'll get a bill later for any copays or coinsurance you owe.
- Whether you're paying in person or getting billed later, you can use the money in your HRA to pay for care.
- You can get care online, over the phone, and by video for $0. This includes phone appointments,⁵ video visits,⁵ 24/7 advice, e-visits, and email. Learn more at kp.org/getcare.

Predictable prescription costs

- Generic, brand-name, and specialty drugs are covered at a copay or coinsurance when you fill your prescriptions through a Kaiser Permanente pharmacy.
- Many of our facilities have pharmacies, but you can also fill prescriptions online, in the Kaiser Permanente app, over the phone, or by mail.
- If your plan has a separate deductible for prescription drugs, you'll need to reach your drug deductible before you start to pay a copay or coinsurance.

Plan ahead by getting cost estimates before getting care

- Once you're a member, you can register on kp.org, where you can get a personalized estimate for services you're scheduled to receive. The tool also shows how close you are to reaching your deductible and out-of-pocket maximum.
- You can also get estimates for prescription drug costs with our pharmacy estimates tool.

Getting more for your money with your HRA

- With this plan, your employer will set up your HRA and put money in your account.
- You can use the money in your HRA to pay for different kinds of care, depending on the type of account you have.
- Because the money isn't part of your wages, you won't pay taxes on it.

For more details about your plan, including your specific deductible, copay, coinsurance, out-of-pocket maximum, and prescription amounts, see the Disclosure Form Part One and Disclosure Form Part Two or ask your benefits manager for your Evidence of Coverage.

1. The tax references in this document relate to federal income tax only. Consult with your financial or tax adviser for information about state income tax laws. 2. You can use your HRA to pay for qualified medical expenses, which are defined under Internal Revenue Code Section 213(d) in IRS Publication 502, Medical and Dental Expenses, available at www.irs.gov/publications. Depending on the type of HRA your employer offers, the qualified medical expenses that you can pay for with your HRA may vary. Check with your employer's plan administrator for details. 3. Depending on your plan. 4. In some cases, you'll still pay a copay or coinsurance after reaching your out-of-pocket maximum. 5. When appropriate and available.

Your costs during preventive care visits

Preventive care visits can help you stay healthy. Depending on your plan, most of these visits are covered at no cost. But if you have symptoms of a health condition, you may need diagnostic or treatment services.

If that happens, you may get a bill for those additional services.

Learn more at kp.org/prevention.

Preventive care

The purpose of a preventive care visit is to help keep you healthy and uncover possible health problems early.

Examples

- Blood pressure screening for all adults
- Colorectal cancer screening for adults over 50
- Type 2 diabetes screening for adults with high blood pressure
- Immunizations for children from birth to 18 years

What you'll pay

For most members, preventive care visits are covered at no cost.

Learn more

For a full list of preventive care services, visit kp.org/prevention.

Diagnostic or treatment services

Any care or service that's used to diagnose or treat a health problem is not considered preventive. These services are given in response to symptoms of a health condition.

Examples

- Most prescription drugs, when used to treat or manage a condition you already have
- Lab tests or X-rays
- Procedures, like removing a mole or getting stitches

What you'll pay

Diagnostic or treatment services may result in a bill – which may include a deductible, copay, or coinsurance.
